

Principal School or Division Contact for Central Student Systems and the Management of Student Data

School or divisional offices of the Dean of Students are designated as the first point of contact for communicating the needs of their respective areas and academic departments for management of student data. In turn, the offices of the area Deans of Students serve as the principal contacts through which changes in systems, applications, and processes are disseminated unless, as appropriate, there are other well established means. Central University offices that work with central student systems will consult with the offices of the area Deans of Students, as appropriate, when proposing and executing changes to operations, processes and applications that involves central student systems.
